SOMETHING ABOUT TAXATION IN THE STATE.

Governor Sadler and Comptroller Davis are making a tour of the State in the interest of just taxation. The gentlemen should be commended, as the work they purpose doing is much needed for the welfare of the people and in the interest of good government in the State. What success they will have remains to be seen when they have made a trial balance on their work. If there is anything in the State that requires looking after it is taxation. The dear people are rubbed down and rough ways have been made to appear smooth to them in past years. They have been put to sleep by lullabies sung to them by Charles Wallace and others in opposition to the good of the State for many years, while they were being robbed to maintain and furnish within the State positions for the robbers.

There is trouble brewing in Nevada that Charley and his pet, Comptroller Davis, are well disposed of by saying nothing about it. The old method of closing trouble out by silence will no longer furnish a means of escape. The State is at the short end of its borrowing power, the constitutional limit is in sight and a scare is over State headquarters, and we know of people who are glad it is so. Our system of taxation will have to be revised, and through its revision it is hoped there will be relief for the people and the State. "I am the State" will be no more the imperial boast of Wallace, and the good people of Nevada may yet breathe the breath of liberty. The question presents itself in a way that will be understood by those who have largely sustained the burden of government by paying excessive taxes upon their property, when compared with the taxes of those whose property interests are large.

The Central Pacific company, whom C. O. Wallace and his confederates represent in the State, is not paying taxes upon more than one-tenth of the value of its property within the State, and through political manipulation is making a saving annually of over $100,000 upon a fair estimate on its property value, when compared with the valuation that is made for tax purposes on the property of householders and farmers in the State. The property of the company at its own valuation is in effect mortgaged to secure about $125,000 per mile. It has agreed to pay over $60,000 per mile on its indebtedness to the government, a part of which has been paid, and then in effect mortgaged the road for the sum above mentioned. The earnings of the road is more than $60,000 per mile annually, and its net earnings are more than $25,000 per mile annually, and its valuation for taxation purposes is in Washoe county $13,000; Esmeralda county, $13,000; Elko county, $12,000; Lander, $12,000; Lyon, $12,000; Humboldt, $10,000, and Churchill county $10,000 per mile, which showss that the aggregate valuation of the railroad property in the counties through which it runs is less than one half of its annual net earnings. The earnings of a railroad makes a standard by which the value of the road is ascertained. A railroad's standard value is fixed by its earnings in business transactions, and is the means through which courts arrive at the value of railroad properties. Courts will receive the best evidence only about matters that are before them for adjustment, and the earnings of a railroad is deemed in judicial proceedings to be the best evidence of its value.

Farmers, householders, teamsters, miners and others in Nevada who make a living by honest toil, what do you think of the showing made, which is under the real valuation of the railroad property for taxable purposes? You are paying taxes upon your property and upon your hard earnings up to a two-hands to a full valuation. From your savings and hard earnings come the revenues chiefly that defray the expense of government, while a powerful corporation that has its railroad running over your State pays upon a valuation made on its property estimated at one-half of its net annual earnings, which state of things is in keeping with the times and the manner of conducting government and public affairs. The theory is largely acted upon that the individual man has no rights worthy of consideration, except it may be the right to earn money that corporations who hold a public franchise and the general money power of the world can take from him in the many ways provided for that purpose, and were the present provisions for that purpose sufficient

The present building on the lot will be dragged to a new site.

CARSON CITY, September 20.—To JOURNAL, Reno:

TUESDAY—Fair; stationary temperature.

Dan Got the Forfeit.

The thousand dollar race between Silver State and Mandamus failed to occur yesterday. Schwartz weakened at the last moment, and stakeholder Fizzizzer turned the $50 forfeit over to Dan. Henry Ritter had O'Keefe's $50 ready to put up.

The Palace Bakery rooms are not only the coziest and most dignified place of its kind in town, but we also assert, without fear of contradiction, that our goods and service are far superior to any.

RENO HAS A REIGN OF TERROR

FIVE MORE HOUSES WERE ENTERED YESTERDAY.

THE BURGLARS ARE GROWING MORE BRAVE.

Police Powerless, Despite Best Efforts, to Locate the Perpetrators of These Crimes.

Five more houses were entered yesterday by the band of burglars that have been operating in the city the past few days. Never have such bold raids been made in Reno. The list is as follows:

DODGE'S HOUSE ENTERED.

Thieves broke into E. R. Dodge's residence but secured little booty. Two unsuccessful attempts to rob the house were made earlier in the week.

FRIGHTENED FROM SHEARE'S HOUSE.

While the house of B. C. Shearer was left for a few minutes yesterday, a thief, who had evidently been on the watch for this opportunity, entered the house. He was found in a bedroom when the family returned. He beat a hasty retreat leaving his spoil behind.

EVANS' HOME BURGLARIZED.

Yesterday afternoon the residence of J. Newton Evans on Peavine Avenue was broken into and thoroughly ransacked. Many small articles of value and considerable cash were taken.

BURGLAR AT CUTTER'S.

During the absence of H. C. Cutting's family yesterday a thief entered and broke open a trunk containing property of Mr. Cutting's deceased father. The articles taken were valued not so much for the intrinsic values they possessed as for the treasured associations that clung about them.

FOILED IN THE ATTEMPT.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to rob Mrs. E. C. Friend's residence at 11 last night. Mr. Friend's apartments are over his saloon. His wife heard some one open the outside door with a pass key. He called, "Charlie, is that you?" There was no answer and she pressed an electric button which communicated with the saloon. Mr. Friend came up to his room but the would-be burglar had skipped out.

THE ELLIFORD COMPANY.

The opera house was crowded again and many people were relieved advantage. "A Nutmeg Match," as represented last night, was a certain cure for the worry or the blues, and roars of laughter went up in appreciation of the clear and wholesome fun which marks "A Nutmeg Match," with its delightful break of Connecticut rural life permeating the four acts.

Jessie Norton, who in the two previous plays put herself in the background in minor parts, was the life and soul of the play in the boyish "Under." She was well supported in the comedy element, especially by George Hernandez as "Brick."

Tonight the Elliford Company will play "The Great M-ropolis."

Efficient Work of one of the Committees of the Reno Improvement Club.

The Protection Committee of the Reno Improvement Club, of which H. J. Thyne is chairman, is (we are both pleased and regretful to state) about the only committee appointed by this organization which has so far shown signs of life.

The committee has instigated extensive improvements to the Opera House. It has been thoroughly renovated. Iron columns in granite foundations have replaced the timber supports of the balcony. Stand pipes have been placed in the front and rear of the building and the owners are preparing to put in fire plugs and hose.

It is also due to the Protection Committee that Reno will soon have a handsome and substantial fire engine house, equipped with modern accessories.

The attention of the committee will soon be directed toward providing the city with an electric fire alarm system. The committee that slumbers should profit by the example set by those energetic men.
